DANIELLE
MARIA

The contusion would be consistent with that type of injury, it was minor, though. Getting wet was the real problem here.

Maria moves off as Da Vinci closes the file.

DA VINCI

Okay thanks, this is my copy, right.

MARIA

It's all yours.

He heads toward the door.

25 EXT. UBC - DAY

START

Rose and Shannon meet with a young woman DANIELLE, standing outside a faculty building.

SHANNON

You Danielle.

DANIELLE

Yes. That's me.

SHANNON

I'm Detective Shannon, this is my partner Detective Williams.

ROSE

You called us about Elizabeth Dunn.

DANIELLE

Yeah. I heard about the investigation, I mean everybody on campus is talking about it. But I don't think most people have a clue about what Elizabeth was really like.

ROSE

Were you a friend of hers?

DANIELLE

We used to be room-mates.

ROSE

When was this.

DANIELLE

Last year. At first I thought she was one of the nicest people I'd ever met. But then it got weird.

SHANNON

How do you mean, weird.

CONT. . . .

DANIELLE

She wasn't hitting on me or anything. She was just - creepy. It was like we couldn't just be friends, we had to be best friends, we had to be only friends. In her mind, we had to do everything together. Finally I couldn't stand it anymore and I moved out.

ROSE

And that ended it.

DANIELLE

No, I wish. If I went somewhere, she'd show up. Like clockwork. I told her to leave me alone but she wouldn't listen. And then the phone calls started.

SHANNON

She started harassing you over the phone.

DANIELLE

I even tried changing my number but she'd always find it somehow. And the calls got weirder. Sometimes she wouldn't even say anything but I knew it was her.

ROSE

You felt you were in danger from her.

DANIELLE

I guess so. It was hard to tell with Elizabeth, how far she might take it. Look, I came forward because I felt sorry for Professor Keenan. I know what it's like to have Elizabeth on your case.

SHANNON

So you think it Elizabeth who was stalking Professor Keenan.

DANIELLE

I don't know for sure what was happening. But if anyone was the stalker, it was Elizabeth.
